Sacramento County Employees' Retirement System Recognized for Investment Success

Institutional Investor, a leading international business to business publisher focused primarily on international finance, has announced that the Sacramento County Employees' Retirement System (SCERS) is one of four nominees for the 'Small Public Plan of the Year' in their 12th Annual Hedge Fund Industry Awards. These awards recognize the hedge fund investors, managers, and consultants that stood out for their innovation, achievements, and contributions to the industry in 2013.

Nominees were selected by the editorial and reporting staff of Institutional Investor magazine, who interviewed leaders from across the hedge fund investing community, solicited input from subscribers and other industry professionals through a public call-for-nominations, and drew from their own market intelligence and publicly available performance data.

The other nominees in the 'Small Public Plan' category include the Fire and Police Pension Association of Colorado, the City of Philadelphia Municipal Retirement System, and the Orange County Employees' Retirement System.

"This nomination is an honor that reflects industry-wide recognition of SCERS' accomplishments in the investment field and is a testament to the hard work of SCERS' investment team and the leadership of the SCERS Board," said Richard Stensrud, Chief Executive Officer. "It is also validation of SCERS' commitment to the solid stewardship of the retirement assets of SCERS' members."

Nominees will be honored and winners will be awarded at a dinner and ceremony at the Mandarin Oriental in New York on Thursday, June 26, 2014.
